

ART, SCIENCE TECHNOLOGY: SPEAKING OF ART/SCI RESEARCH

Invited international bio-artists in conversation with Concordia researchers

CELLULAR INTERVENTIONS IN ART

Marta de Menezes in conversation with Dr. Kim Sawchuk, Department of Communication Studies

Wednesday, March 3, 5pm

OF MICE AND TRANSGENIC RATS IN ART AND SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Kathy High in conversation with Dr. Barbara Woodside, Department of Psychology

Wednesday, March 10, 5:30pm

TRANSFORMATION AND BIODIVERSITY IN ART AND BIOLOGY

Brandon Ballengée in conversation with Dr. Dylan Fraser, Department of Biology

Wednesday, March 31, 5pm

Lecture Hall, 1.114, CJ building

Loyola Campus, Concordia University, 7141 Sherbrooke Street W.

For additional information contact Tagny Duff at tduff@alcor.concordia.ca

This event is sponsored by Fluxmedia with the support of Studio XX and funded through a Concordia Aid to Research Related Events grant. Fluxmedia, situated within the Department of Communication Studies, is a research network exploring the intersections of art, science and technology.

Image credit: DFA 25, Prométhéus, Scanner Photograph of Cleared and Stained Multi-limbed Pacific Tree frog from Aptos, California in Scientific Collaboration with Dr. Stanley K. Sessions. MALAMP titles in collaboration with the Poet KuyDelair. 46 in. x 34 in., Unique IRIS print on watercolor paper, 2003/07. Courtesy the artist and Nowhere Gallery, Milan.

