In support of the lives of Black and Indigenous people, here are a few avenues for concrete action in the coming days and over the long term. Click here or here for lists of anti-racism resources. This document brings together several organizations and petitions to fight systemic racism and white supremacy in Canada and the United States. Here are also some local initiatives to support: Hoodstock, Black Lives Matter - Montreal, the Montreal North Legal Clinic, the Saint-Michel Legal Clinic, and Librairie Racines.

To the Black and Indigenous members of our community, we see you and support you. We will continue to share resources throughout our social networks, and commit to our work to be and become a more anti-racist organization. Beyond #BlackOutTuesday, we encourage all of our members and followers to continue to be informed, to speak out about racism in your communities, and to be present, active and supportive, by listening to and prioritizing the voices of Black and Indigenous people.
