The online exhibition Some Ellipses continues until June 28! Don't miss our mediation activities:
- Tonight, Tuesday May 26, at 8 pm -> Guided tour on CISM's Facebook page.
- Sunday June 14 -> Online activity for families with Olivia McGilchrist.

PROGRAMMING

Our Slow Tech programming continues! From September 2019 to July 2022, Studio XX slows down and supports practices exploring our relationship to technologies, to each other, to time, and to the environment.

ONLINE EXHIBITION | Some Ellipses

April 28 - June 28

- Black Womxn Temporal Portal (The Future(s) Are Black Quantum Womanist) by Black Quantum Futurism (Camae Ayewa & Rasheedah Phillips)
- X-cosmos-X by Olivia McGilchrist

"In these openings, the bodily experience is projected into other possible, open realities. Although these places are ephemeral, their experience transcends the framework of the present by offering tools for resisting erasure."

- Marilou Craft

OFF-PROGRAMMING

We are pleased to collaborate with the DisAbled Women's Network Canada to present Living with Ataxia as part of National AccessAbility week.

VIDEO SCREENING | Living with Ataxia

by Magdalena Guzman and Annie Maheux

Tuesday June 2 + Thursday June 4, 7 pm - 10 pm

Online (the viewing link will be shared at a later date)

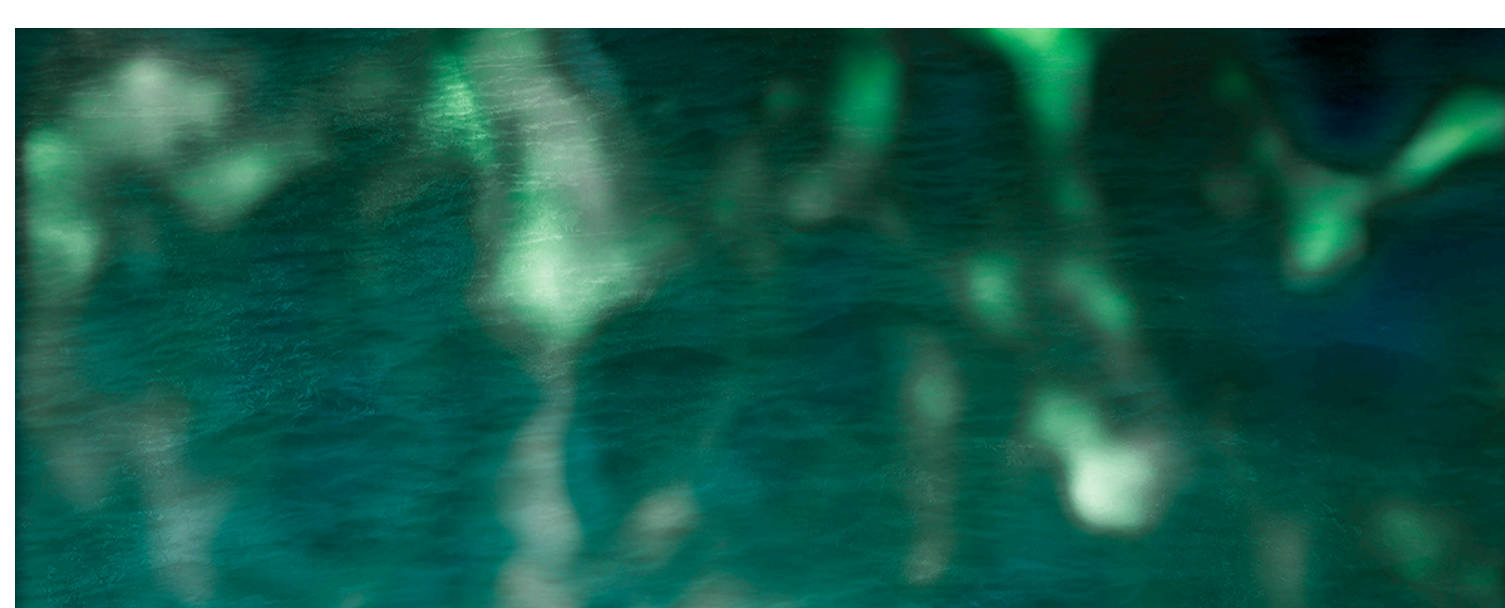

Based on an original idea by Magdalena Guzman and coordinated by Annie Maheux, Living with Ataxia deals with the fundamental intersections between desire and disability, through video and Virtual Reality research.

EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Using the collaborative platform Mural.co, parents and children can create a zine inspired by Olivia McGilchrist's work X-cosmos-X, presented as part of the online exhibition Some Ellipses!

FAMILY ACTIVITY | Create a zine in the X-cosmos-X!

Sunday June 14th, 2 pm - 3:30 pm

Join Olivia and the other participants in this live virtual workshop exploring our relationship to water, ecology, weather and technology. We will combine self-portrait photos with text and images provided by the artist to collage new landscapes. After the workshop, everyone will receive their printed zine in the mail!

FREE | To register, please send the names and ages of everyone participating to mediation@studioxx.org before June 11th.

NEWS

How can cultural mediators continue to transmit, teach and co-create in the age of confinement? What are the tools that best support participation and collaboration in today's digital space? How can this be done, and how can it be done remotely?

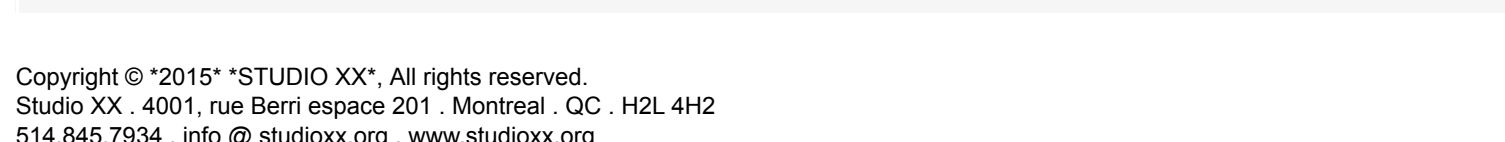

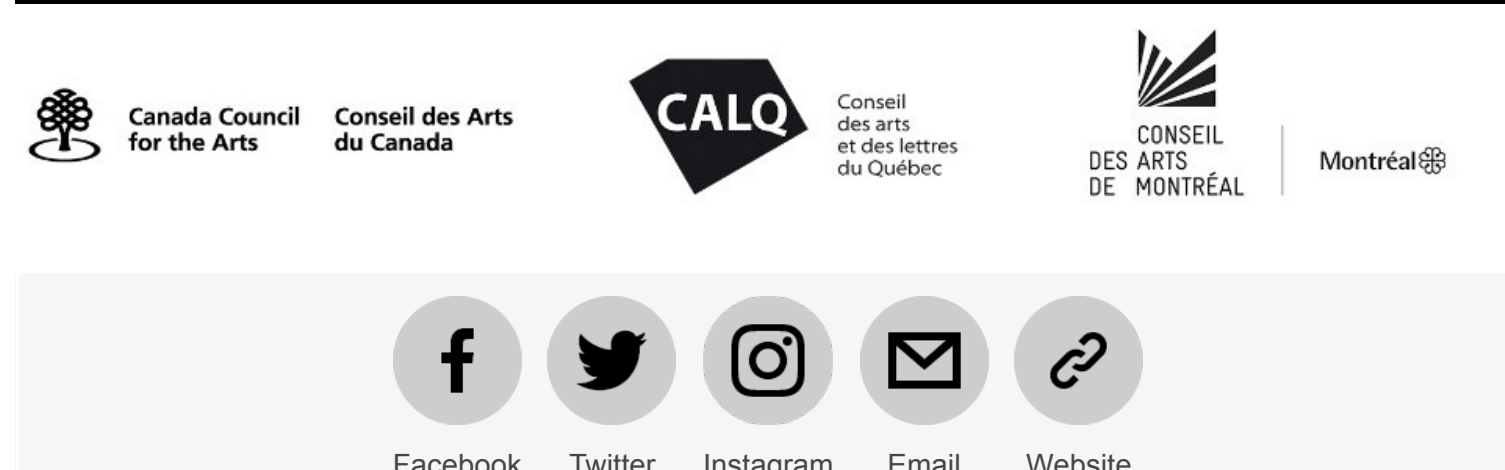

We're taking part in Artenso's MIDIS_DEMOS to share our experience.

Video: collective recording and editing

Wednesday, May 27, 12 pm to 1:15 pm

with Stéphanie Lagueux, Mediation and Archives Coordinator at Studio XX.
