Glissement de compétences

- With Julia Piccolo
- From September 10th to October 21st
- At Studio XX

During her residency, Julia Piccolo will develop an installation exploring the connections between textile and digital techniques. Inspired by Sadie Plant's work "Zeros + Ones: Digital Women + the New Technoculture", the artist wants to reflect on the contribution of women in the history of technology and, more specifically, to the gestures associated with female preconception behind the Jacquard loom.

The residency will feature an informal presentation as well as a guided tour of Piccolo's newly created work.
