STUDIO + feminisms + arts + technology + society

Studio XX opens its doors this week! We have the pleasure of welcoming three new members to our team: Claire Moineau as Interim General Coordinator, Hannah Strauss as Cultural Mediator, and Orphée Russell as Archivist and Web Integrator. We take this opportunity to wish a good maternity leave to Julie Alary Lavallée!

You can already mark your calendars for our September activities:

- September 15: educational activity – KeyCap Club: extraterrestrial communication with Marie-Andrée Pellerin
- September 19: public presentation of Marie-Andrée Pellerin’s residence project + discussion with Élisabeth Vonarburg
- September 24 + 25: workshop-performance – Smell Feel Match by Lauryn Mannigel at VIVA! Art Action
- September 30: workshop – I smell a rat by Lauryn Mannigel

slow tech

We are starting the first cycle of our Slow Tech programming! From September 2019 to July 2022, Studio XX slows down and supports practices exploring our relationship to technologies, time and the environment.

RESIDENCY

L’obsolescence des mots | Marie-Andrée Pellerin

August 12 – September 21, 2019

Thursday, September 19, at 6:30 pm: public presentation + discussion with the sci-fi author, Élisabeth Vonarburg
At Studio XX

“An essential communication mediator between humans and computers, the keyboard is a rare advanced technical tool, characterized as a simple extension of our will and senses. In Marie-Andrée Pellerin’s work, however, this tool is becoming obsolete.”

I smell a rat | Lauryn Mannigel

Monday, September 30, 6 pm – 7 pm

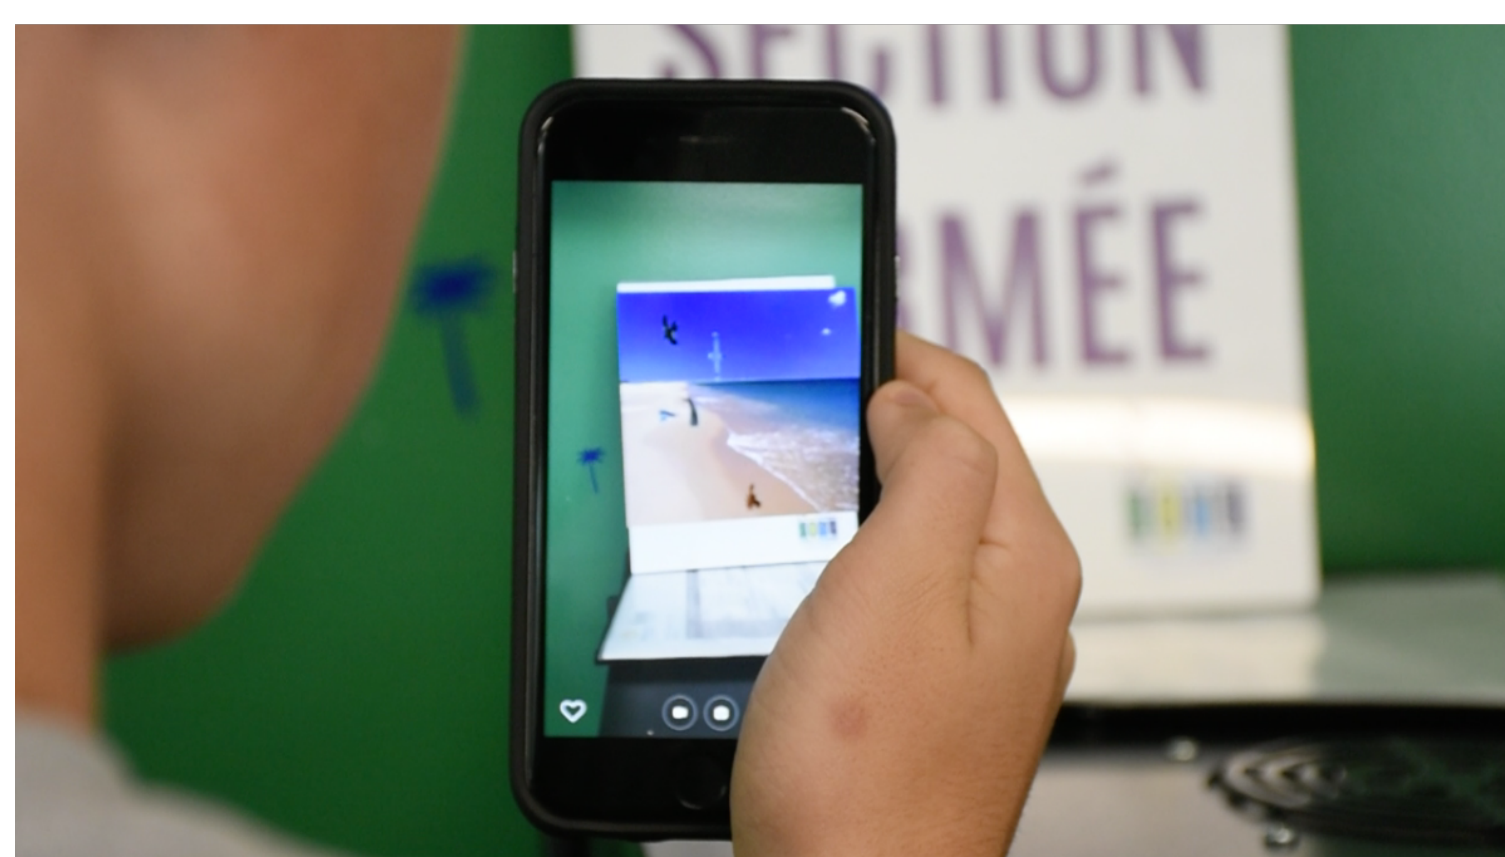

At Studio XX

Studio XX is thrilled to present Lauryn Mannigel’s work as part of its first collaboration with VIVA! Art Action! Based in Berlin, Lauryn Mannigel explores the politics of body scents and while here will invite us to examine our feelings and judgments towards body scents in two workshops.

EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES

We develop educational projects for young people in collaboration with the artists of our programming. This summer, Studio XX offered a 3D printing workshop at Rivière-des-Prairies, as well as a summer camp in Blainville!

Upcoming in the next few months: more than 20 educational activities in Montreal and its surroundings – Rivière-des-Prairies, Blainville, Festival NUM à Laval – in collaboration with Raphaël Demers from Fab Lab du PEC and with the artists Marie-Andrée Pellerin, Katherine Melançon, Martine Frossard, Julia Piccolo, Olivia Mc Gilchrist and Josée Brouillard, amongst others.

KeyCap Club: extraterrestrial communication

Artist / instructor: Marie-Andrée Pellerin

Sunday, September 15, 1 pm – 4 pm

Free | Registration required

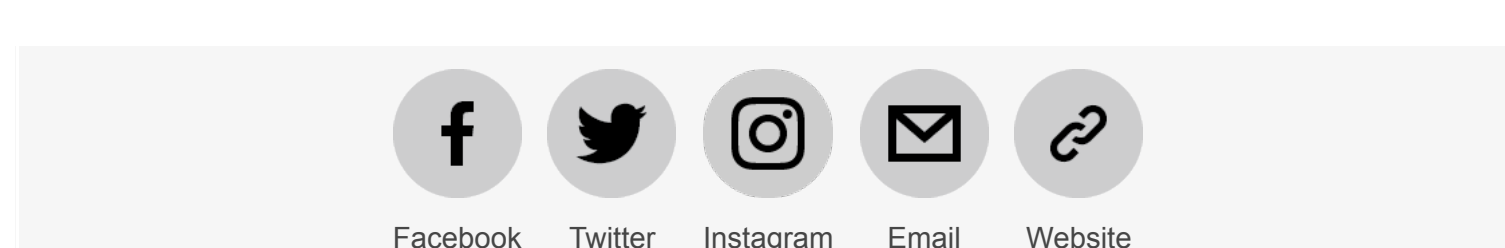

In this sound creation workshop, children and parents transform keyboards into extraterrestrial communication devices! Participants will start by recording sounds before making an audio composition using the personalized keyboards.
