20 YEARS OF FEMINIST PROPELLED DEBATE & EXPERIMENTATION WITH ART & TECHNOLOGY

STUDIO XX JUNE 2016 NEWSLETTER 100

It is summer and this means it's break time!
Please note that Studio XX will be closed from June 20 to August 26, 2016.
We will be back on August 30, 2016.

MAKING WAY FOR FEMINISMS. MORE THAN EVER.

To check out some of the bold, funny, and poetic projects that marked the 2015-2016 programming at Studio XX, we invite you to check out our Matricules Archives.

One of the highlights of the year is that the irreducible originality of Studio XX attracted the attention of the arts community: Studio XX was one of the nine finalists of the The 31st Grand Prix du Conseil des arts de Montréal. Among other things, the jury recognized the rebellious and strong work produced by artists who identify themselves as women and/or are ascribed to LGBTQIA2 communities. For shaping the history of media art in Montreal and questioning the status quo, we want to thank XX's community!!!

The work produced by XX's community, their views of the world, the questions they pose, their methods and aesthetics are more urgent than ever because they point out contemporary social injustices. In a context marked by tragic events, such as the Orlando Massacre, as well as revelations of sexual abuse in universities, sexual harassment suffered by women in business and politics, and violence against aboriginal women in Canada reveal that women's rights and the rights of marginal communities in general are constantly challenged. It is therefore more important than ever to support and disseminate feminists practices essential to understanding and better address the complex challenges of our time.
